HIGHLIGHT YOUR BUSINESS IN A QUICK, CHEAP, DATA-DRIVEN WAY

How much do you spend on trade fairs where customer interactions are brief, unproductive, and often could be handled with a simple email or phone call?

How easy is it to find your website online? Between SEO, keywords, and algorithms, are you truly visible?

PACKFLOW delivers qualified leads through targeted searches and smart filters, helping customers navigate the supplier selection process in the bottling industry — 365 days a year.

ACCURATE FILTERS

Designed by industry experts, PACKFLOW guides customers toward the most suitable choice and filters your leads to ensure only high-potential contacts reach you.

WHO ARE OUR VISITORS?

If you've arrived on our platform, you're already a valuable lead.

Unlike the noise and clutter found across the web, our platform is built specifically for a highly specialized manufacturing sector. This naturally filters the inbound traffic — we may not have massive numbers, but the quality of visitors is high.

Our audience is mainly composed of buyers actively seeking suppliers who can solve specific problems. Many are from young start-ups exploring solutions — some may experience sticker shock when they see the pricing, but that's no different from what happens at industry exhibitions. It's part of the process.

WHAT ARE OUR LEADS LOOKING FOR?

We believe one of our key added values lies in providing insight into visitor search trends—helping you understand where the market is heading.

While basing investment decisions on what companies are currently producing offers one perspective, combining this with data on what users are actively searching for gives you a more complete picture. This dual approach allows you to anticipate demand and position your offering strategically—so you're ready when purchasing decisions are made.
